

Can You Do This?

Ayaan Jain

Jeremy was walking around in the school hallway looking for kids to help him go to the Library, he needed to return a book before tomorrow.

He was in desperate need to find a friendly face to return his book.

He looked and looked but he couldn't find anyone.

Then he remembered, Sam! Jeremy talked to Sam on his first day of school a year ago.

But even when he asked "Can you do this?" Sam yelled "No! You have been in this school for a year and you still don't know where the library is? You are SO useless!"

Sam walked away and left Jeremy speechless.

As he was looking for someone else he thought "Maybe Sam's right, I am useless, I mean, how can't I remember where the library is?"

While Jeremy was wandering around a boy called George looked at him and said "Why do you look so gloomy?"
Jeremy replied "I need to return this book before tomorrow" "Ohhhhh tell me more" George said.

Then Jeremy told the whole story about how he tried to look for someone, how he remembered Sam and how Sam yelled at him and left him speechless.

Then George said "It's okay, I'll show you the direction to the library" "Really? Thank you so much George"

Then George showed the way to the Library and they became best friends.

Jeremy went into the library and got his book checked while George brought a special guest. "Come on!" George whispered.

When Jeremy turned around he saw Sam crossing his hands and saying "No! Jeremy is USELESS I will never forgive him!"

"Well there's that, anyways is your book checked?" says George "Yup, its in my hand!" Jeremy exclaims "Oops didn't se that haha anyways come on!"

On the way to class they talked and laughed and became best friends forever!
