GOING TO THE MOON

By Cooper Loughron

This is dedicated to my best friends

In a rocket, soaring through the sky at 1000km per second Bob, Jerry, Jeff and Elon were yelling because they were having so much fun. However, Elon said, “guys calm down, we are going to the moon so be very very careful because something bad could happen!”

When they were getting closer to the moon, they were really excited but needed to be very careful because when you jump on the moon you can launch yourself into the abyss of space.

BOOM!! We landed. As the rocket hit the moon, Bob was jumping up and down because he was so excited that he was going to stand on the moon. He needed to hear the instructions about how high they need to jump on the moon.

As soon as they put on their space suit, the pilot opened the door and said , “be careful I don´t want to lose passengers.” All of them said, “OK” as they walked out the door.

Bob couldn't listen because his brain was full of excitement. He jumped higher than the maximum height of jumping and he started floating away. Jerry quickly came into action and held Bob for as long as he could but he started floating away as well.

Jeff and Elon ran and tried to hold them from floating away in the distance. Elon said, "hold on, if I can run quickly enough to the rocket I could probably catch you guys!" Elon sprinted to the rocket and started flying to save them, luckily they could breathe in the space suit.

Elon needed to test out his flying skills so he could save the boys as the rocket took off. He knew that the boys would thank him so much and this is the least Elon could do. Elon caught Bob, Jeff then Jerry.

“THANK YOU ELON!” Bob, Jerry and Jeff said. “It’s the least I could do. I am glad you guys are okay.” “Do you guys want to head back?” Elon asked. “Yeah,” they all said. Elon started the rocket, then they started heading back to Earth.

BOOM!

They have hit the Earth. They felt so good to be back that they kissed the ground to make them feel welcome back home. People started giving the boys a round of a applause and the boys felt so great to be back home.

Bob, Jerry, Jeff and Elon were walking back home. As soon as they walked through the door they jumped on their couch and had a little nap. Then they told their parents the whole story and they were just glad that they were okay.

My name is Cooper and I am 12 years old and I live in Victoria. Books have been in my head since I knew about them and read one. I am so grateful to read books that you have never heard about and that's what I have been doing all my life.

I always read books to become smart.

Going to the moon is about four boys Bob, Jerry, Jeff and Elon who go to the moon. Bob is a troublemaker, Jerry is responsible, Jeff and Elon are extremely rich. When they hit the moon something unimaginable, unexpected and terrible happened. Read on to find out...
