To my Mom and Dad,

Thank you for your constant love and support. Without your support it would have not been possible.
I want to dedicate my first book for both of you.

XIAHN AZHER

Once upon a time there was a boy named Max who lived in a normal city with his aunt.

Max was a kind and and a helpful boy.

Max's aunt was busy,
patient and kind.

-WORK-

Max's dad was busy and doesn't care about his health because he works all day and night. He does not care about eating healthy food and exercising.

Aunty can we go to the hospital to meet dad.

Yes, we can go meet your dad.

When they arrived in the hospital they saw a lot of doctors in their dad's room.

Max was shocked and asked one of the doctors why all of the doctors are in his dad's room.

The doctor said, " There is nothing we are just getting him a check up."

He thinks that there is something wrong with his dad so he sneaked in and heard something shocking.

He heard that his dad's heart stopped beating and told his aunt about what happened. His aunt was shocked and both of them felt sad.

They both rushed to the main hall and asked receptionist if there is a special surgery

The receptionist said there is a special surgery but it is expensive.

Max's aunt didn't think about it and paid the surgery.

After a few days,
his dad surprised Max by seeing him. Max was surprised and hugged his dad
and told him how worried he was.

Max's dad said to Max that he was sorry to worry him and promised to eat healthy, exercise and sleep more.

Max The Helpful Kid

There is a named Max who tries to help his dad from the hospital because his dad doesn't eat healthy food and doesn't sleep often.

Max helps his aunt work to earn money.
