

Serenity

Written by Katarina Prskalo

Bob

<-Serenity

Johnny

<-Sam

Samantha

Kayla->

Serenity was a purple Python. She wasn't an ordinary snake though, that crept silently into people's toilets or homes. She was extraordinary.

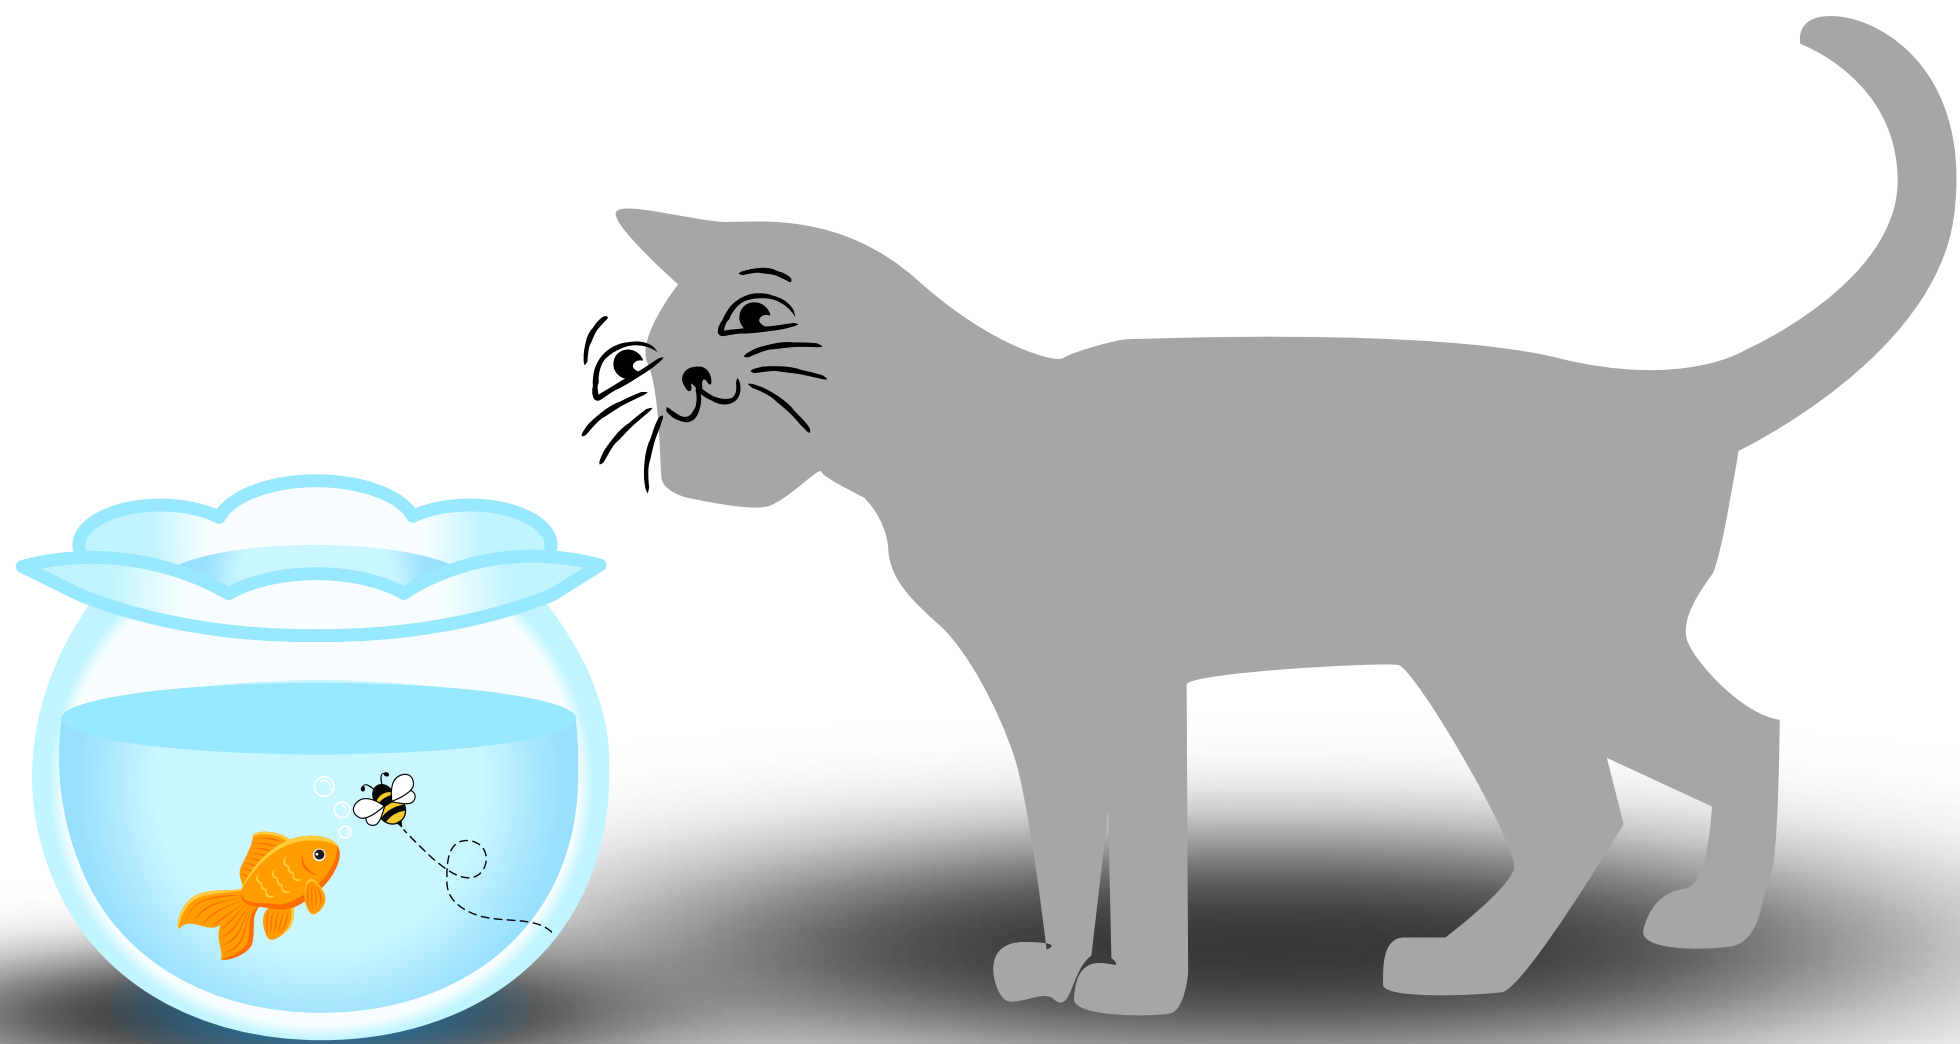

Serenity lived in an ordinary household. Bob and his family had adopted her as their family pet.

Serenity was known as the brave snake. She was very independent, she wasn't afraid of anything. But one day she started acting strangely. She didn't seem as brave as she used to be.

Serenity wasn't the only pet in the house. Sam was a goldfish that was scared of everything. Kayla was a grey cat who liked to boss everyone around.

Everyone was at home and their parents were out on a holiday for a week. The weather app said it was going to be raining and miserable everyday for that whole entire week.

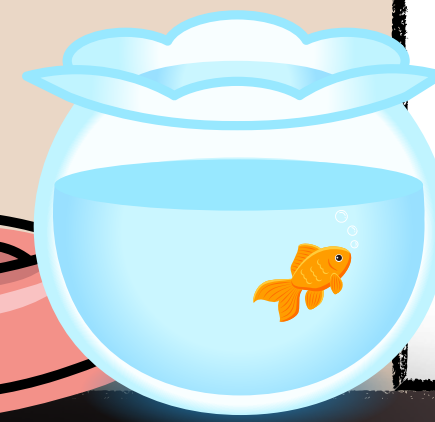

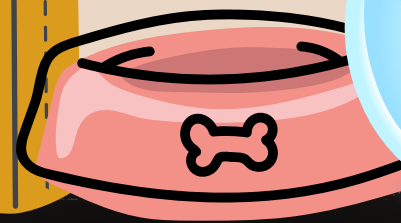

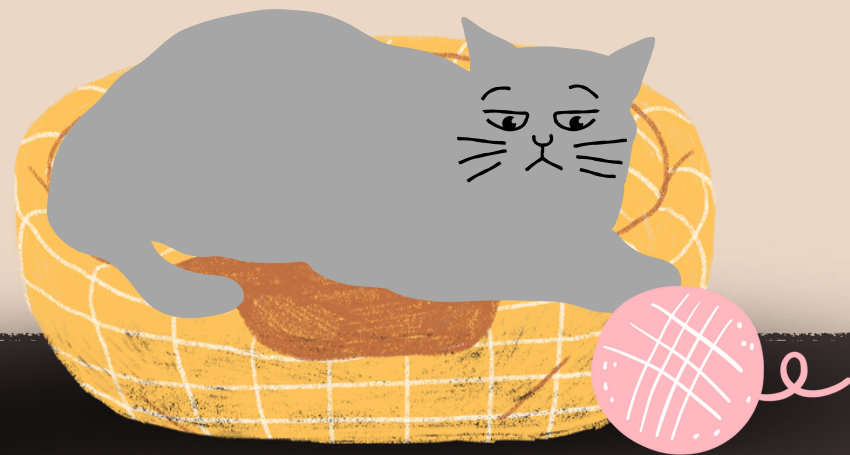

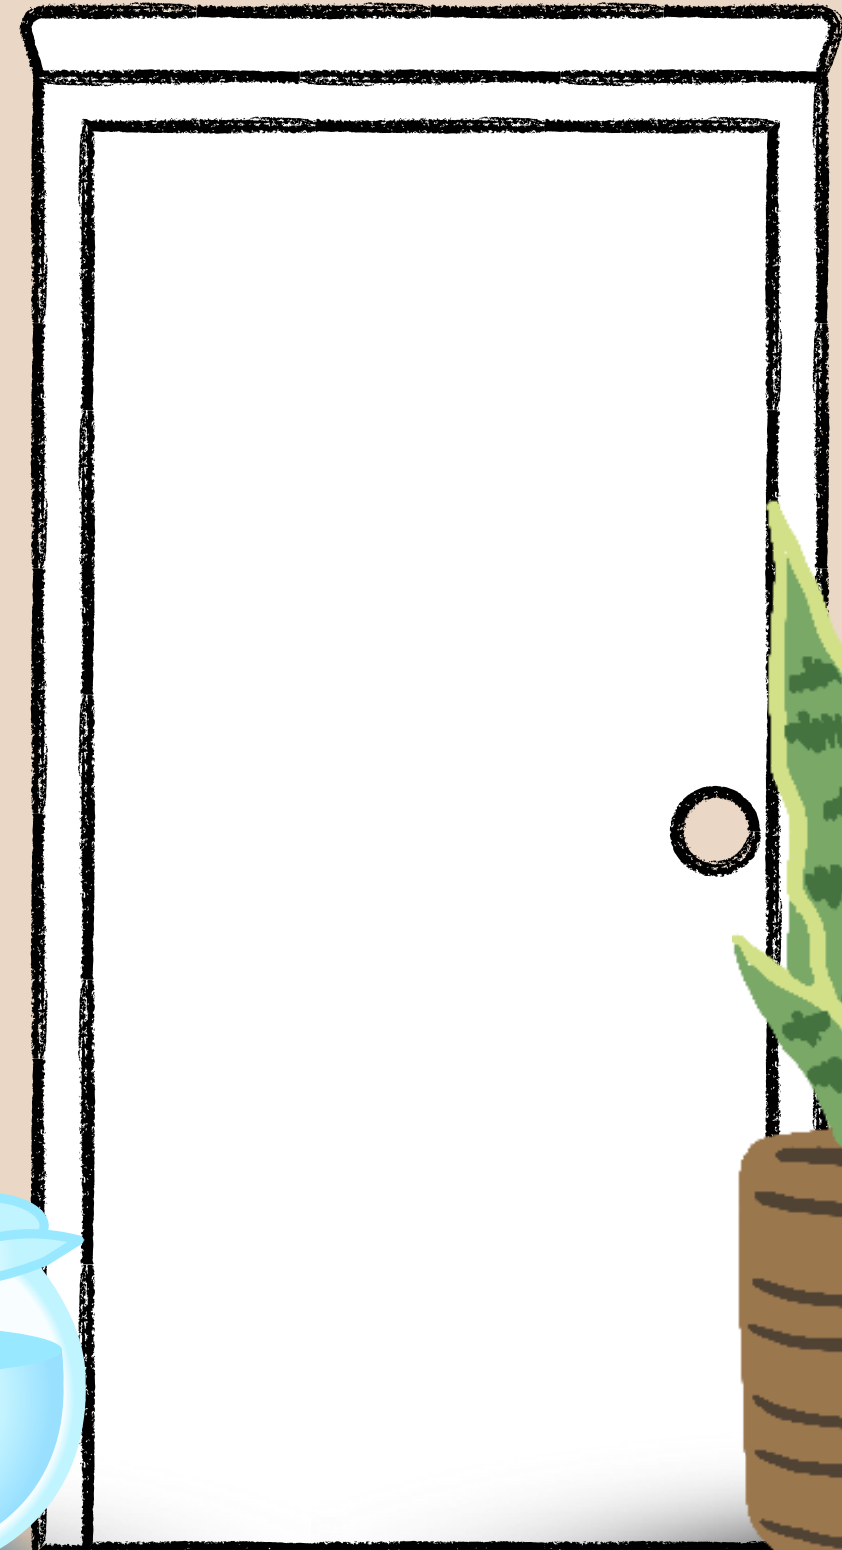

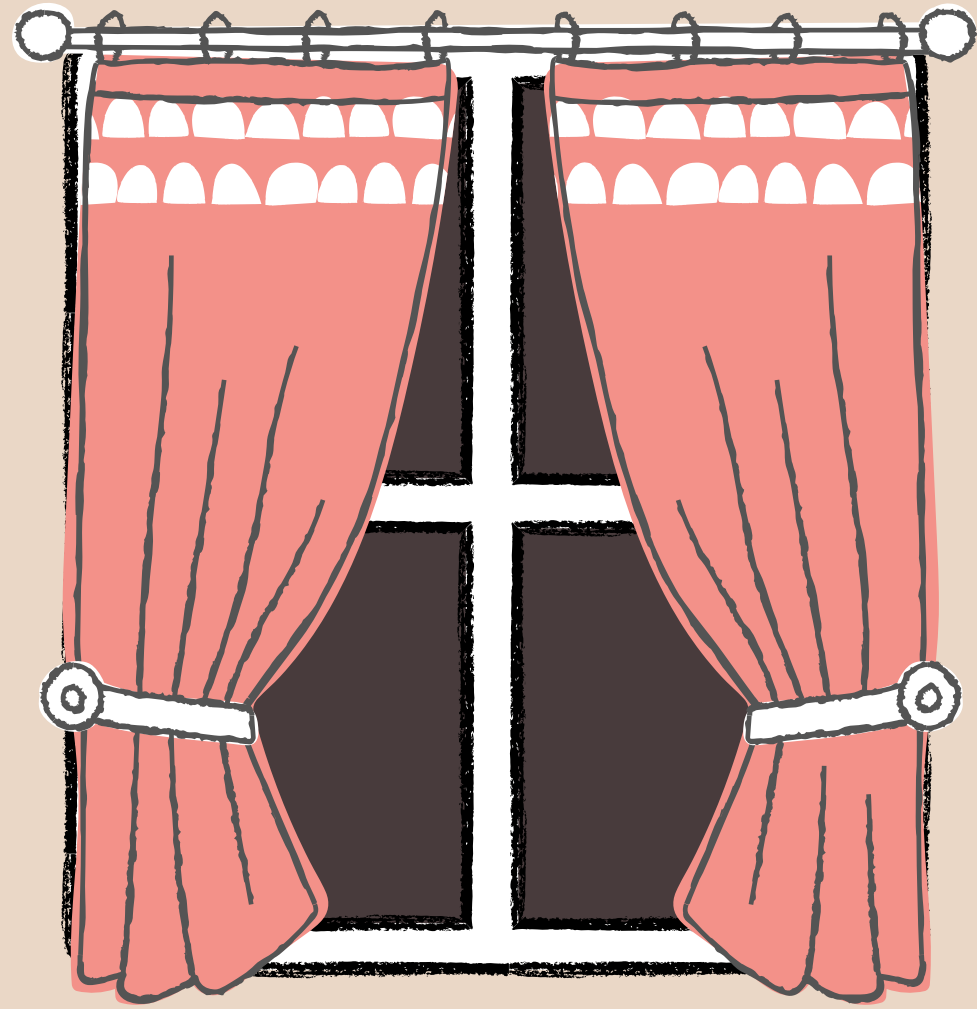

Samantha, Bob and Johnny were arguing about putting Johnny to sleep. After a LOT of convincing they all went to bed, with all their pets still wide awake.

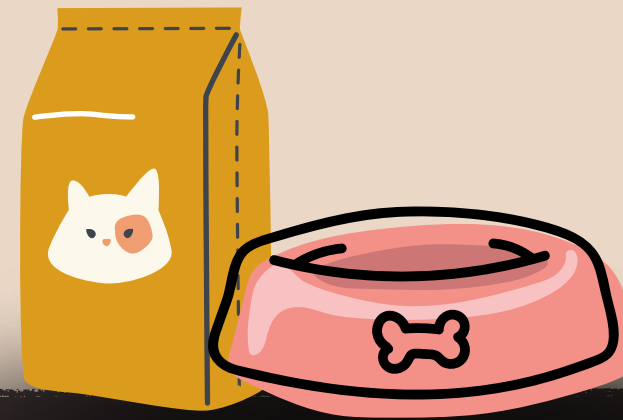

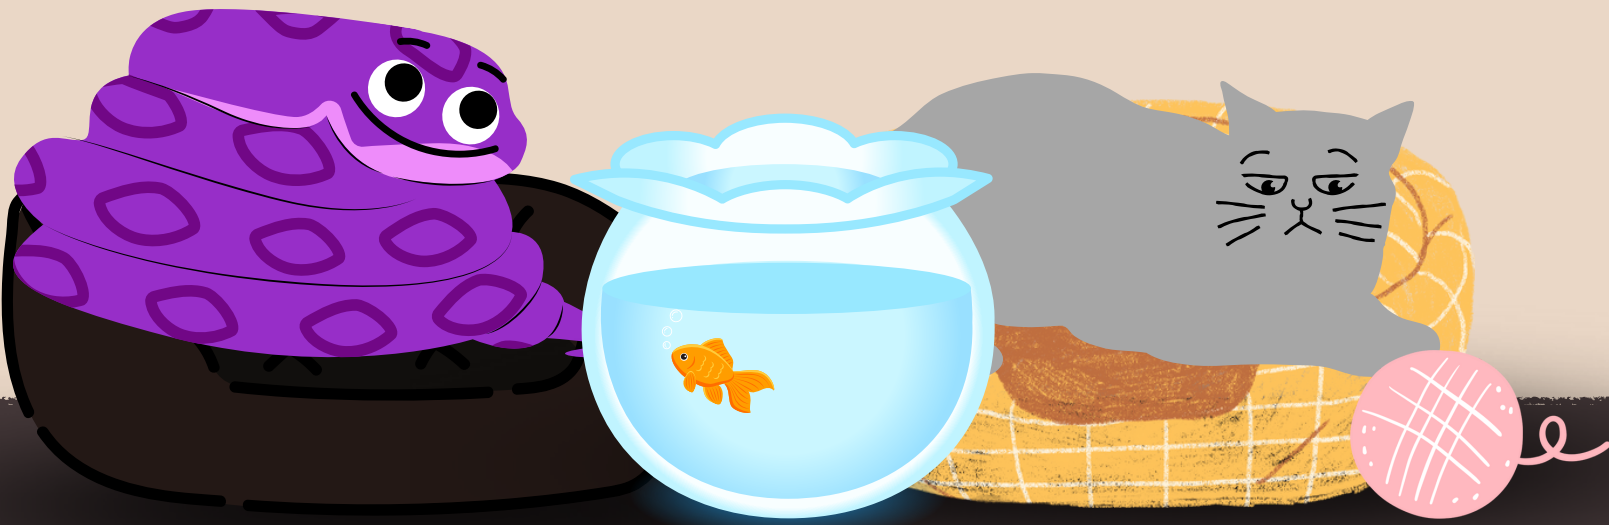

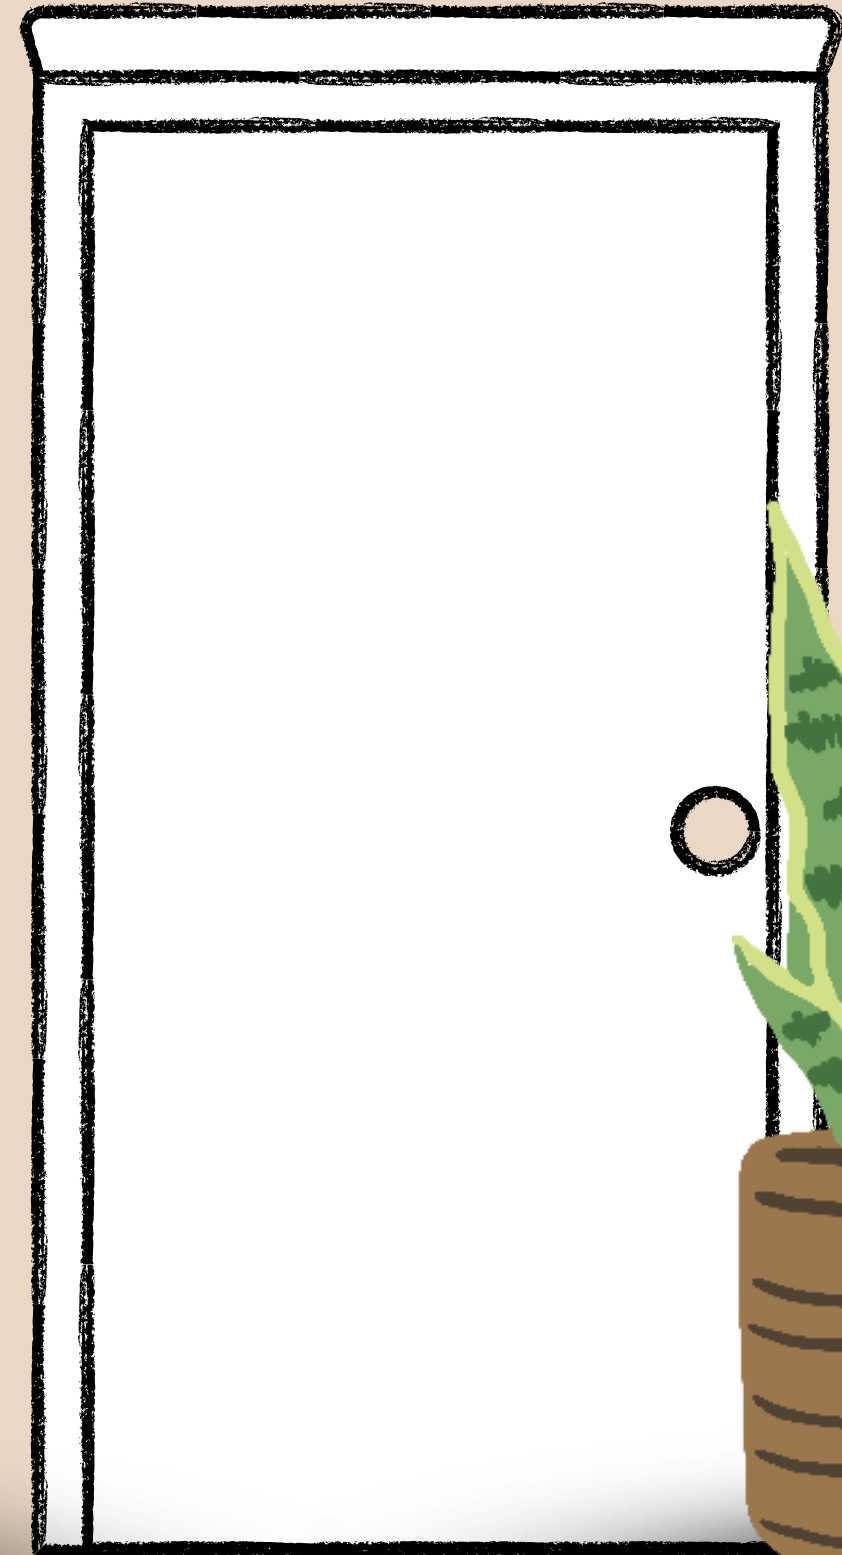

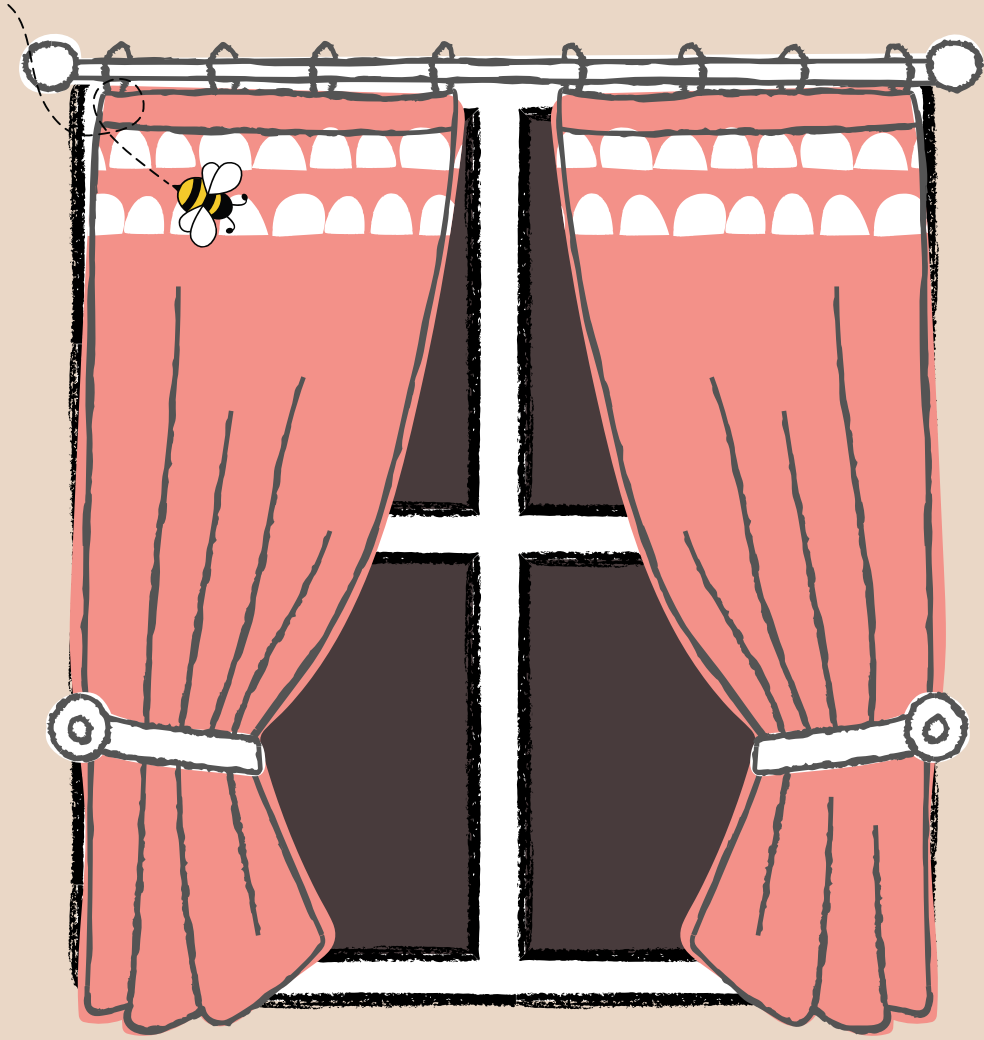

ABCDEF
GHIJKLM
OPQRST
Uvwxyz

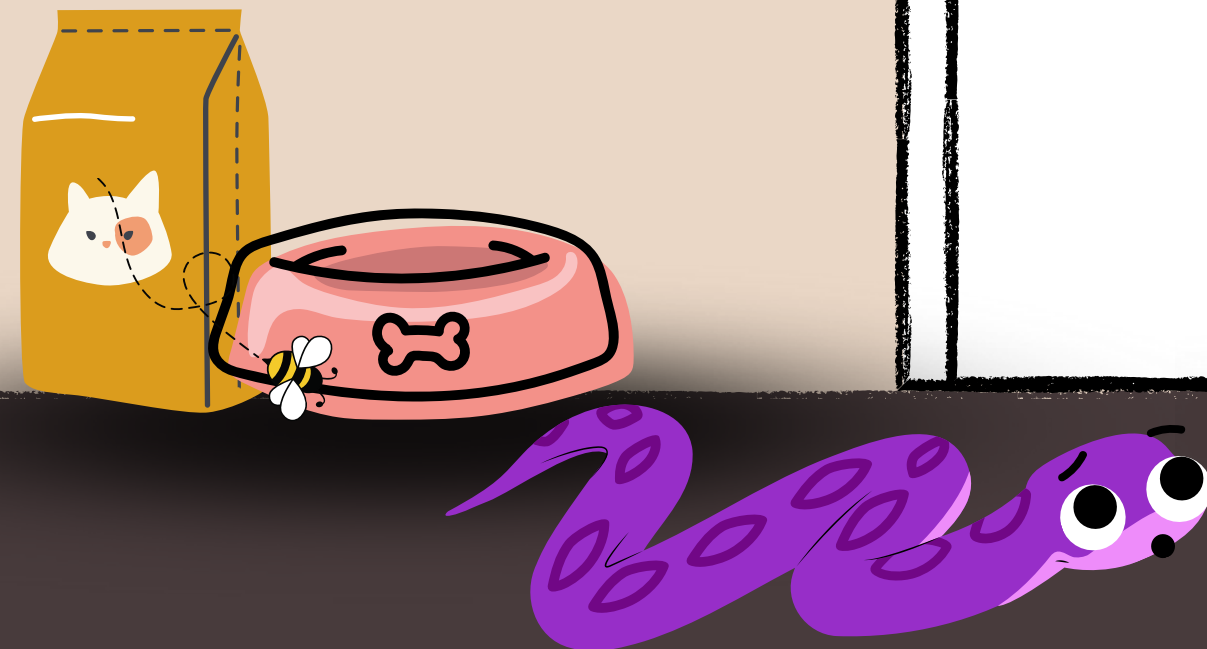

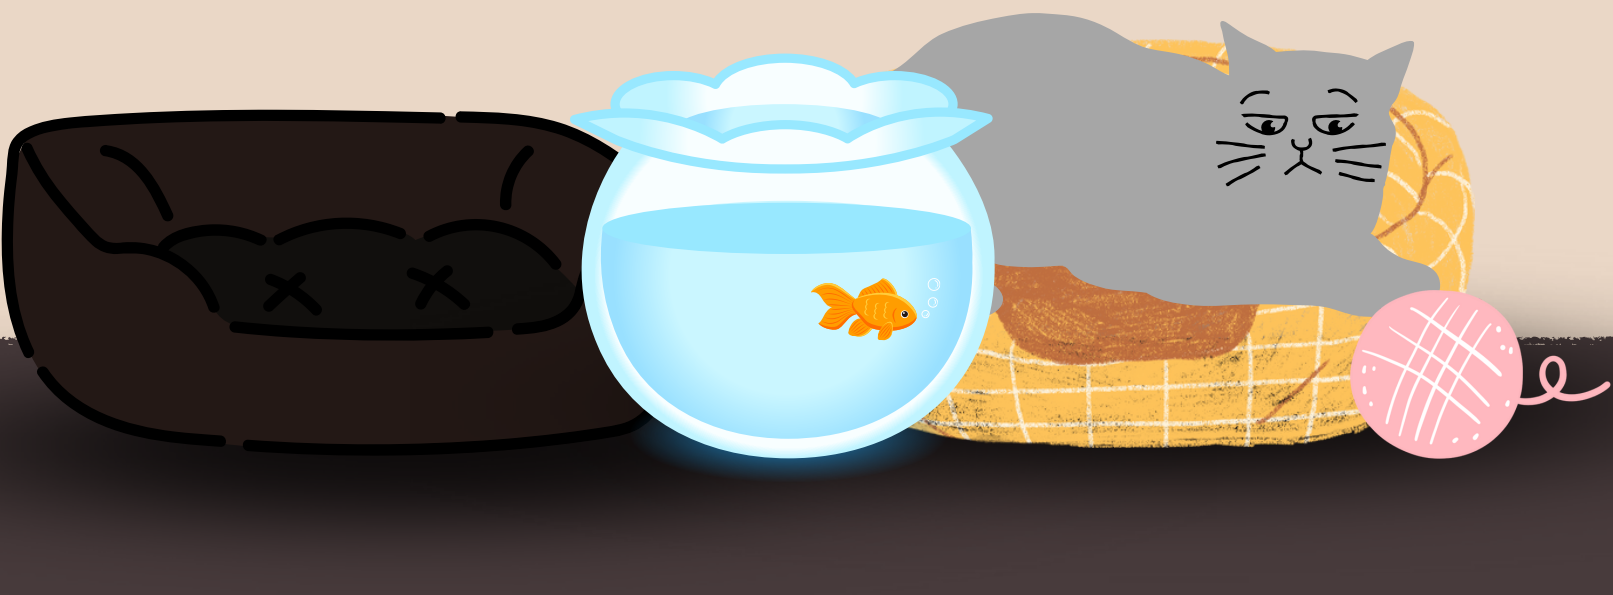

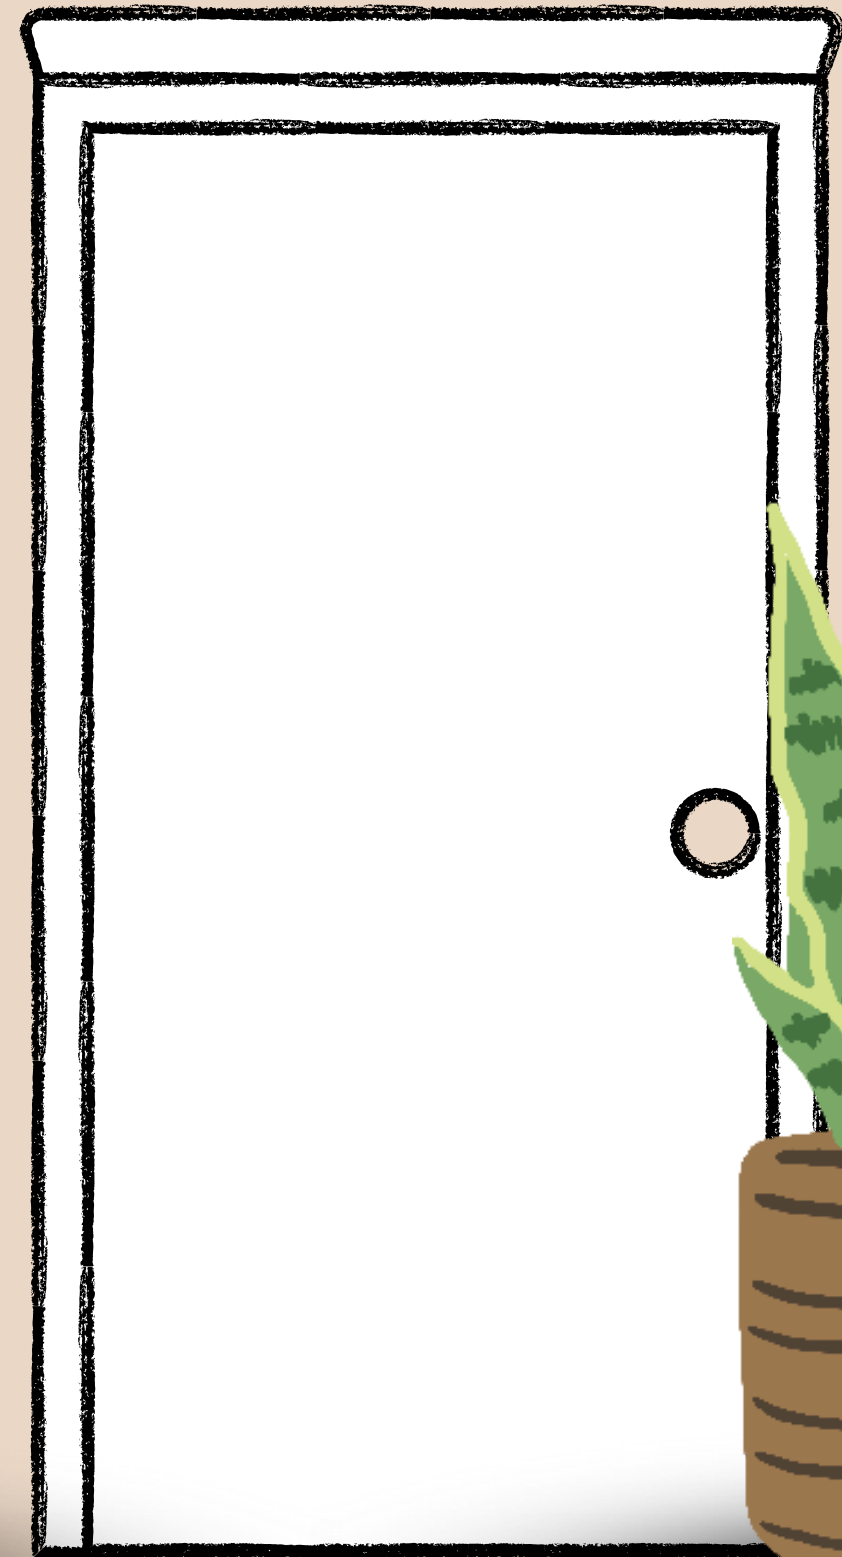

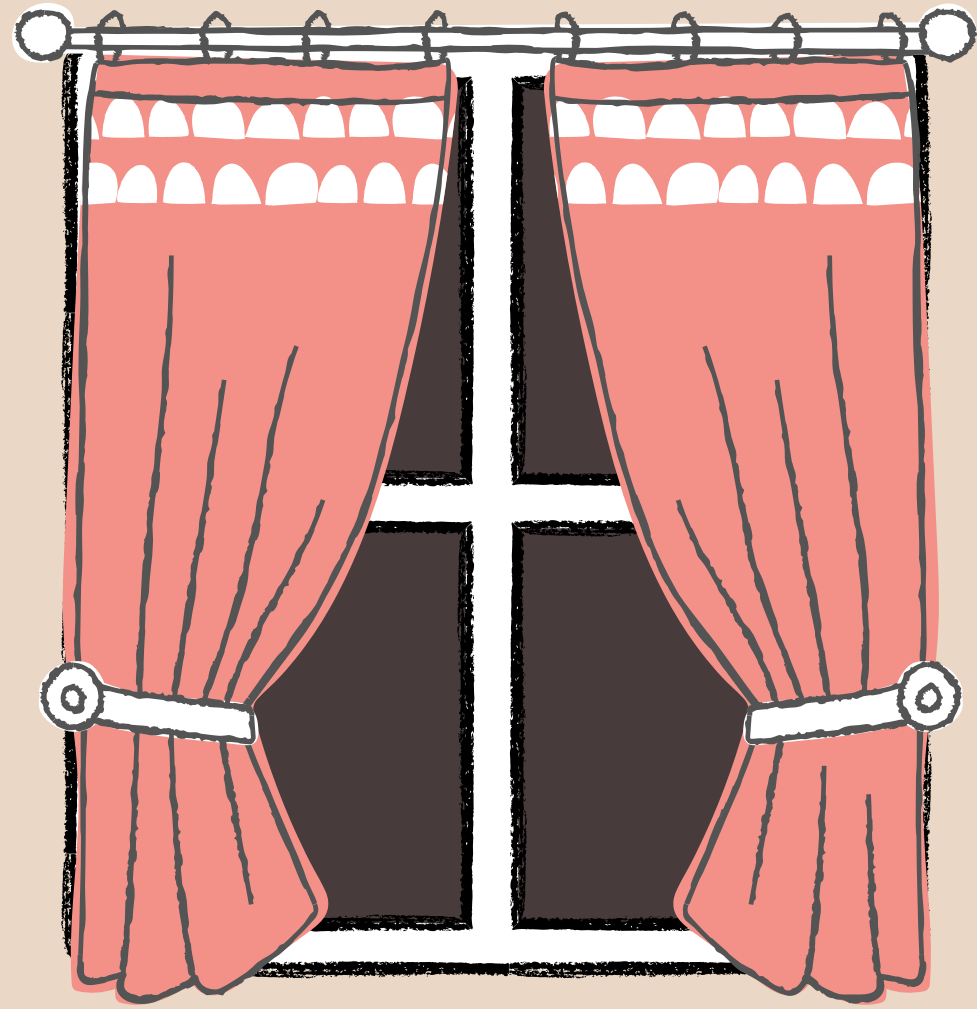

Sam heard noises coming from Samantha's door, and he felt scared, so he went to tell Kayla and asked her to go in. She made up the terrible excuse that she was too sleepy!

Sam was so terrified that he couldn't close his eyes, so he decided to bother Serenity.

He asked her to go in and, being the hero of the day she accepted the challenge, and slithered under the door.

Serenity noticed the fan on, and then the cupboard door slightly open, then she heard a bang and the cupboard door closed. It was opening and closing from the pressure of the wind that came from the fan.

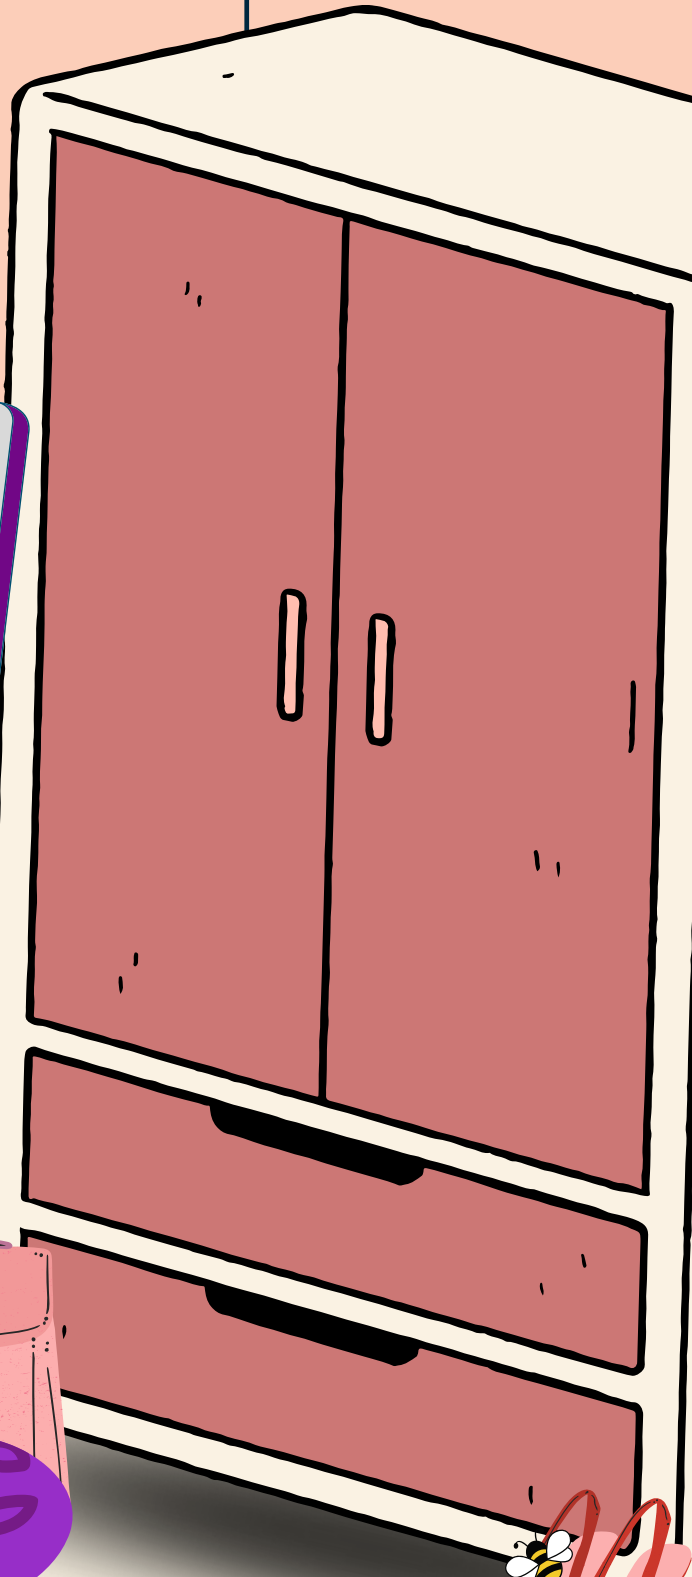

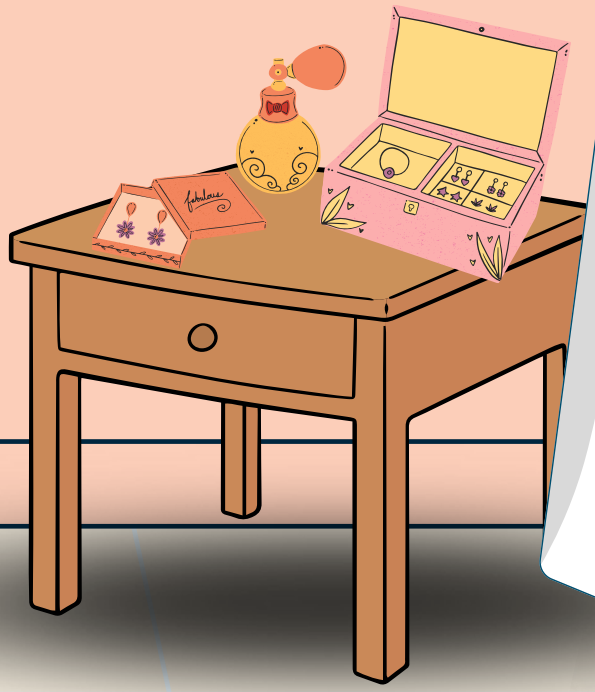

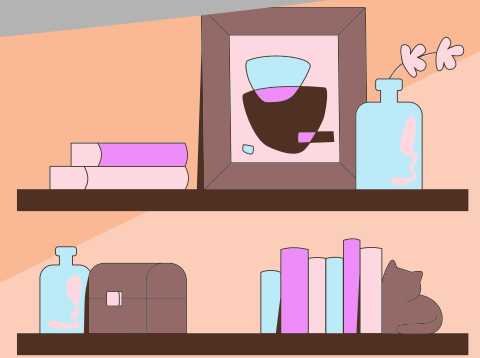

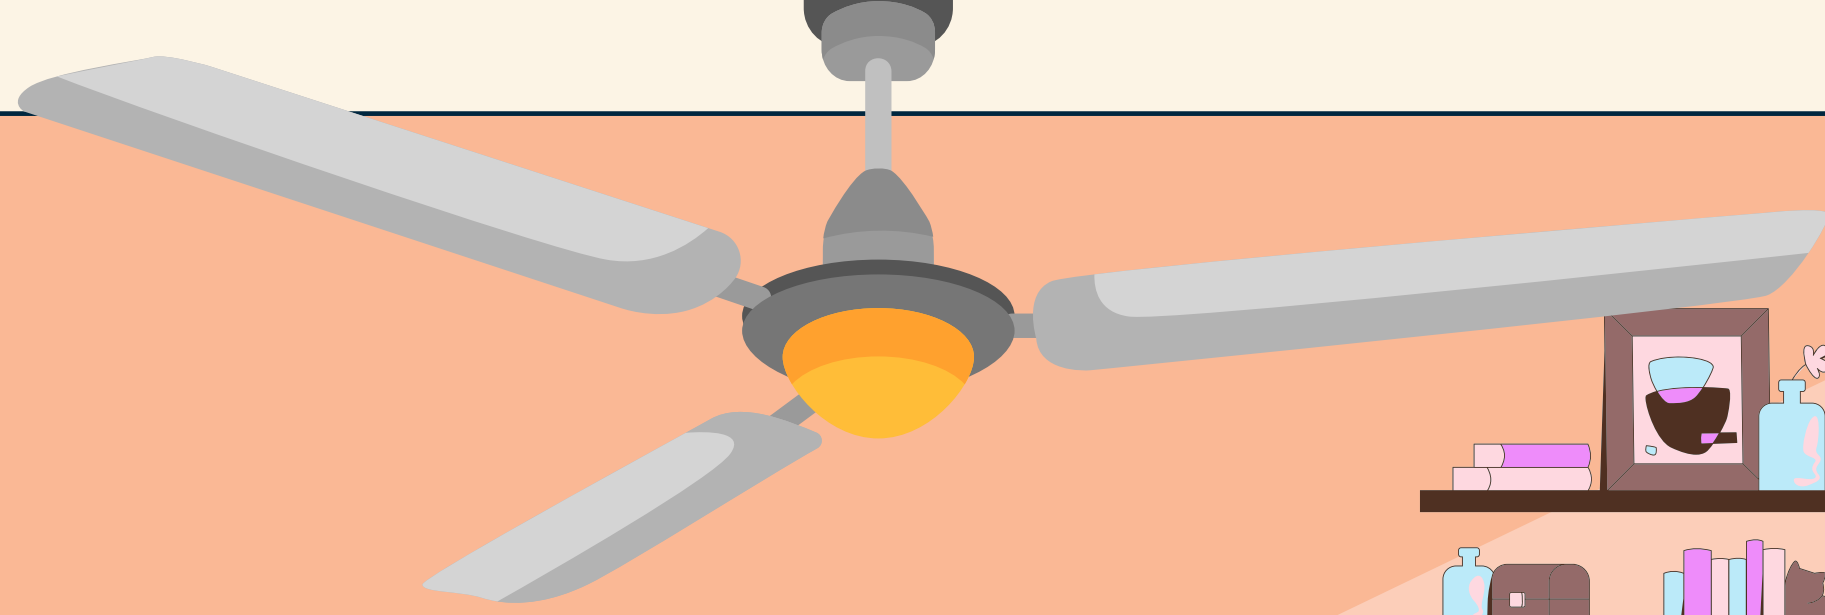

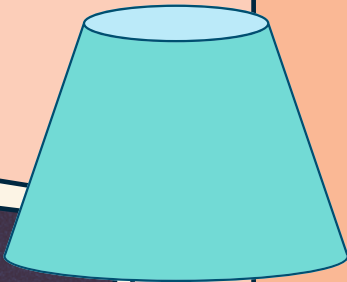

Serenity felt relieved. She slithered up the wall and switched off the fan, then heard ruffling in the sheets of the bed. Samantha was awake!

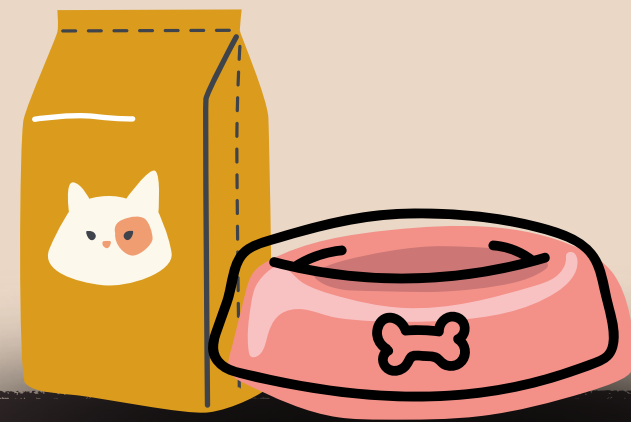

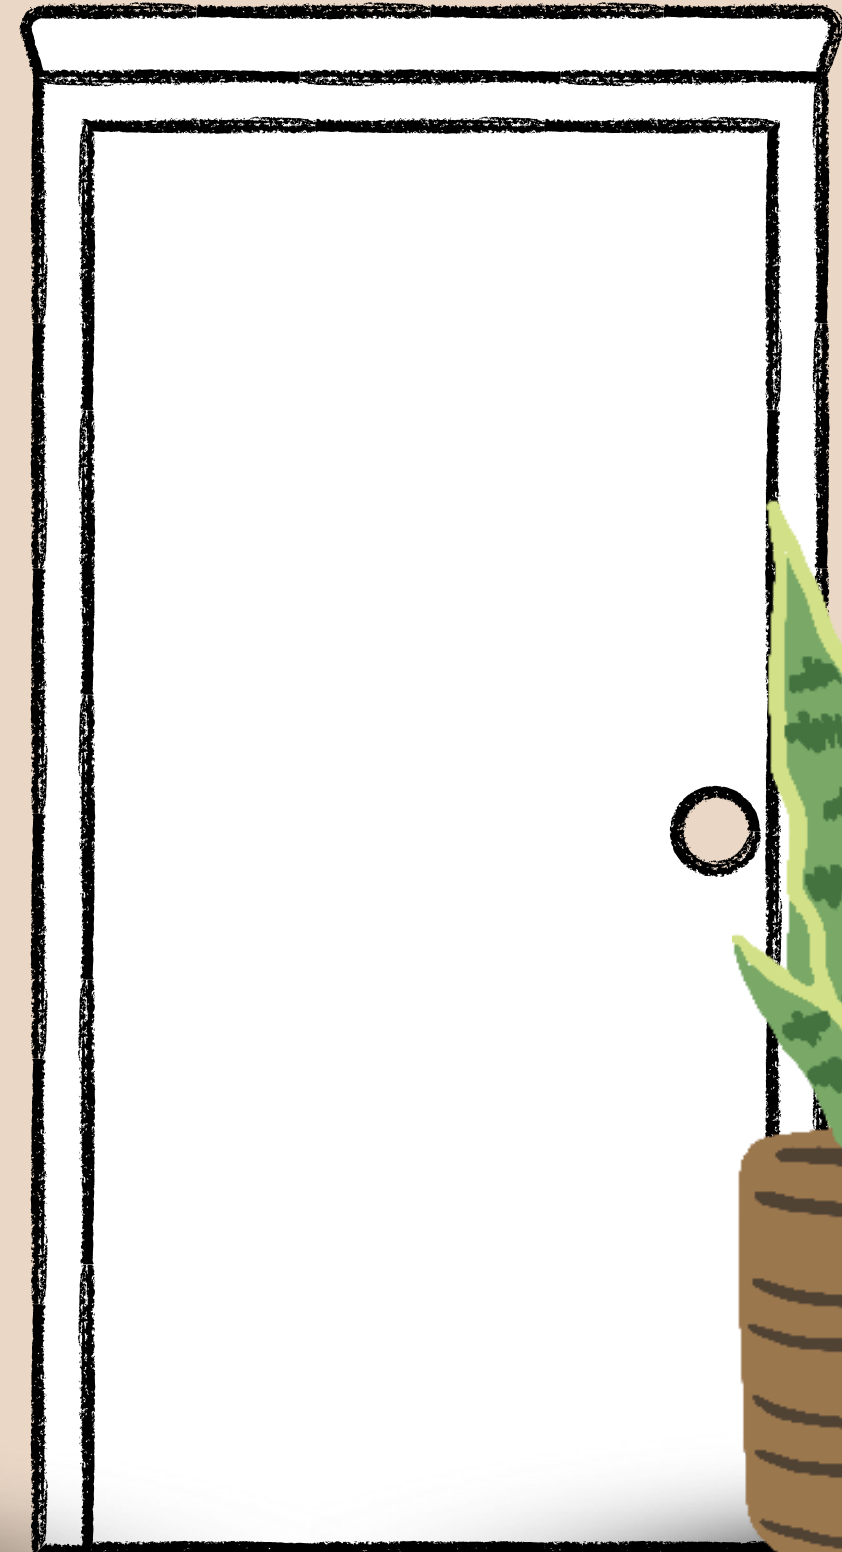

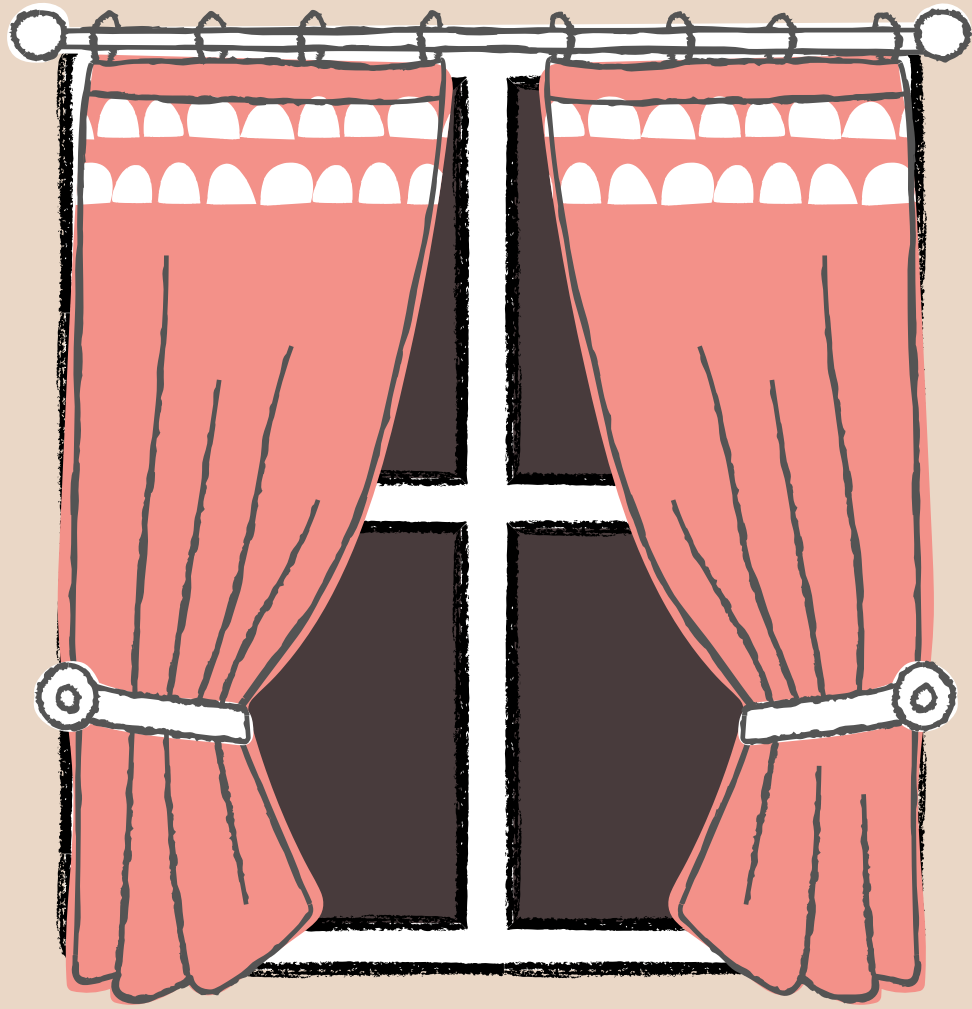

Samantha shot up out of bed, saw Serenity, then suddenly let out a scream...

“AAAAAaaAHHHHH A SNAKE!!!!”

Serenity sat there on the switch in disbelief and was trying to escape while Samantha was creeping to the corner of her room in fear.

Serenity felt terrible, she slid off the switch and under the door out of there as fast as she could.

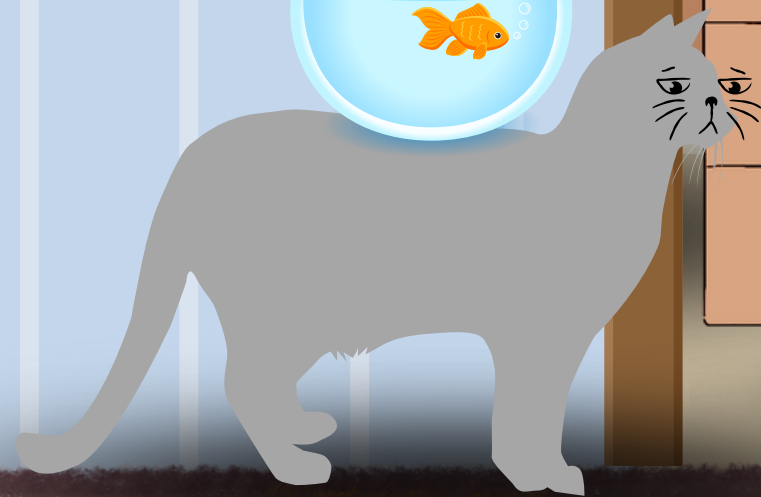

She told Sam that it was just the cupboard and she fixed the problem, he was so full of glee he decided to go to sleep, while Serenity went to Bob's room to sleep too.

ABCDEF
GHIJKLM
OPQRST
UVWXYZ

Kayla went to Sam to have a chat with him.

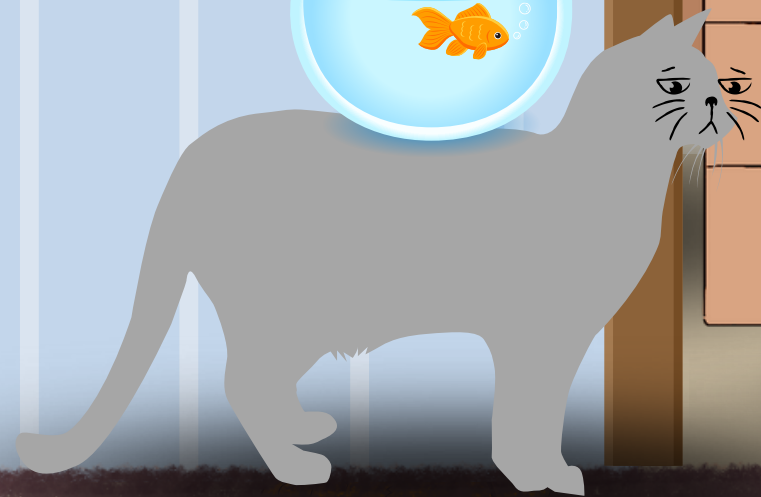

When they were talking, they both said they thought that Serenity wasn't ok, and they decided to go and spy on her.

Sam and Kayla went over to Bob's room and spied from out the door listening to the gushes of wind from the slightly open window, and watching the curtains swaying around gently, dancing with the wind until they heard muttered talking.

Serenity was whispering to herself muttering that everyone hated her. It was so dreadful to hear for Sam and Kayla.

Sam and Kayla were stunned, sitting there on the icy-cold tiles of the floor, Kayla tearing up in sadness because of what she just heard.

Kayla decided to go have a conversation with Serenity

Sam didn't think it was a good idea and was trying to get her to stop, but she wouldn't listen and went up to Serenity.

They had a big conversation about how Sam and Kayla loved Serenity and that she was crazy for thinking everyone hated her.

They hugged each other and they decided never be mean to each other ever again.

A young purple Snake, Serenity feels no one likes her and that she's hated by everyone, but is she really? Does her family love her or not??

