

The baby

By Spencer Loats-
Caruso

this book belongs to _____

One glistening sunny day, some boys and their mum were relaxing near their warm pool drinking delicious sour lemonade. When all of a sudden a sudden they heard a sudden bang

The mum and the boys looked behind themselves shocked to see a random babies tears rolling down their soft cheeks. The mum and boys looked around helplessly looking for their nourishing mother. Then the boys has an idea.

An illustration featuring three characters in a desert environment. On the left, a woman with long brown hair, wearing a yellow long-sleeved top and pink pants, stands with her arms crossed and a thoughtful expression, her right hand raised to her chin. In the center and right, two young boys with brown hair, wearing matching teal t-shirts with a light blue horizontal stripe, are looking towards the woman. The boy in the center has a wide-eyed, excited expression and is pointing upwards with his right hand. The boy on the right has a more neutral, attentive expression. The background is a clear blue sky with several green saguaro cacti, some of which have small white flowers. The text is overlaid in the center of the image, partially obscuring the characters' faces.

What about we take care of them? they said. The mumo and the boys stares in each other's eyes for a second then turns back to the baby. They aren't there!

instead they have moved and are now in the house. The son and the mum quickly sprint to the house to see the baby ruining the house! They darted and collected him and sat him on the couch. The mum asked where there mothers where but they didnt respond because he was like 1 or 2

They were going to have to look after them. As they brought them up to their bedroom they looked at the sad baby, and felt bad for them. They looked outside and saw that time had flown by while they were looking after the baby and went to sleep.

Wahhhh!Wahhhh! Bang. Their eyes shot open like a gun and stared to the left of the room and look at them i lazily wak to them and hush them and put them back to bed, they look at me like they want a story, so i look outside and start.

Once upon a time there was a little girl that lived in Sydney. She was always playing around with her dog, when one day she couldn't find the dog. But then this baby popped over her fence and found her dog and gave her back. She looked at them and they were fast asleep and she walked back to her bed and then drifted off to sleep.

In the morning they heard a knock at the door they swiftly leaped down stairs as the door creaked open they saw a middle aged lady as she quickly said do you have my baby?!

She stared at her and said i think I do and dashed upstairs, got the baby and leaped back down to her. The girl thanked her and gave her a hug, and was gone in a second with the baby.

THANK YOU
for your ATTENTION!

The End

there is a baby on the loose!!

and there is a Mum to save the day!!

does she have the courage to look after them and everything else??

You will never know until you check

this book!

Hello, My name is Spencer. I am currently 11 years old and live in Melbourne Australia, Many people are interested to know that my hobbies include soccer
sports, math
And technology. Most of the time I surround myself with people that I care about. Some of those people are my family and friends. I also particularly enjoy writing about sports.

dedication page and inspiration

My inspiration for this book is my mum and how she always took care of me when i was a baby and how she would take care of me and i dedicated this story to her because she's such a special role in my life.