

The Jungle

By Benji

Dedication:

This book is for my mum because she take care of me and help me when I needed help

The warm sun shone through the green jungle leaves as Larry the lizard slowly woke up.
Larry looked out into the distance when he remembered that he had to get ready to go on his big journey.

He quickly got up and searched through his bag to find his map, he had to go to the great big temple in the desert.

He set off on his journey. The desert was really really far away, and he will need to sprint to get there.

Oh no there is a problem, he has to get over this really wide flowing river. He takes a really big run up Sprints leaps and. . .

... he makes it! Now Larry has to keep on running. He gets into the desert and looks on his map he can't work out where he is. He's lost.

The fox wants to help Larry the lizard. So they travel together to the temple.

He sees a fox in the desert and he runs up to him and asks do you know where the temple is? Jai The fox knows where it is.

The made it, The green emerald keeps the whole jungle alive, it keeps the green leaves green.

As they start to go inside, Larry the lizard sees Kye the echidna, Kye wants to get the green shiny emerald too. He wants to destroy the jungle, they start to do the obstacle course.

They get to the stage Kye is on, they quickly rush past him, they get past him and take the lead.

They start to sprint and get to the last stage. They sprint, and complete the last stage.
They get the emerald.

When they return to the jungle they do not know where to put the green emerald. They are really confused.

Larry the lizard thinks and thinks “I know I could put it somewhere in the jungle and it's hard to find.”

My name is Benji i am 10 years old and i was born in Australia.In my spare time I would like to go play Basketball.

I wanted kids to read books so they would like story books when they are older. My dreams for the future i would like to play in the NBA and play for Chicago bulls.

The jungle is under threat and friends Larry and Jai are trying to keep the jungle alive and safe from destruction by an evil echina.

Come on an exciting journey with jungle animals to save their home.
