

The Monster

By Cajus

For my teacher Mr. Chris

It was in 1988,
and the shipping authority noted that many ships had accidents recently.

Many ship captains reported seeing an eerie shadow in the sea . They went in search of a good detective who could investigate the matter.

They then found a very successful detective. His name was Cajus-The-Successful!

Cajus was sent on a ship a long way away with many scientists to investigate the reported eerie shadow in the sea and find a possible monster.

When they arrived at the area where many ships had accidents, everyone wished
the successful detective good luck.

Good luck

Cajus

was lowered

into the water with his underwater rocket, however the launch delayed a bit as the rocket still had to be fueled.

When the rocket was lowered in to the water Cajus got nervous.

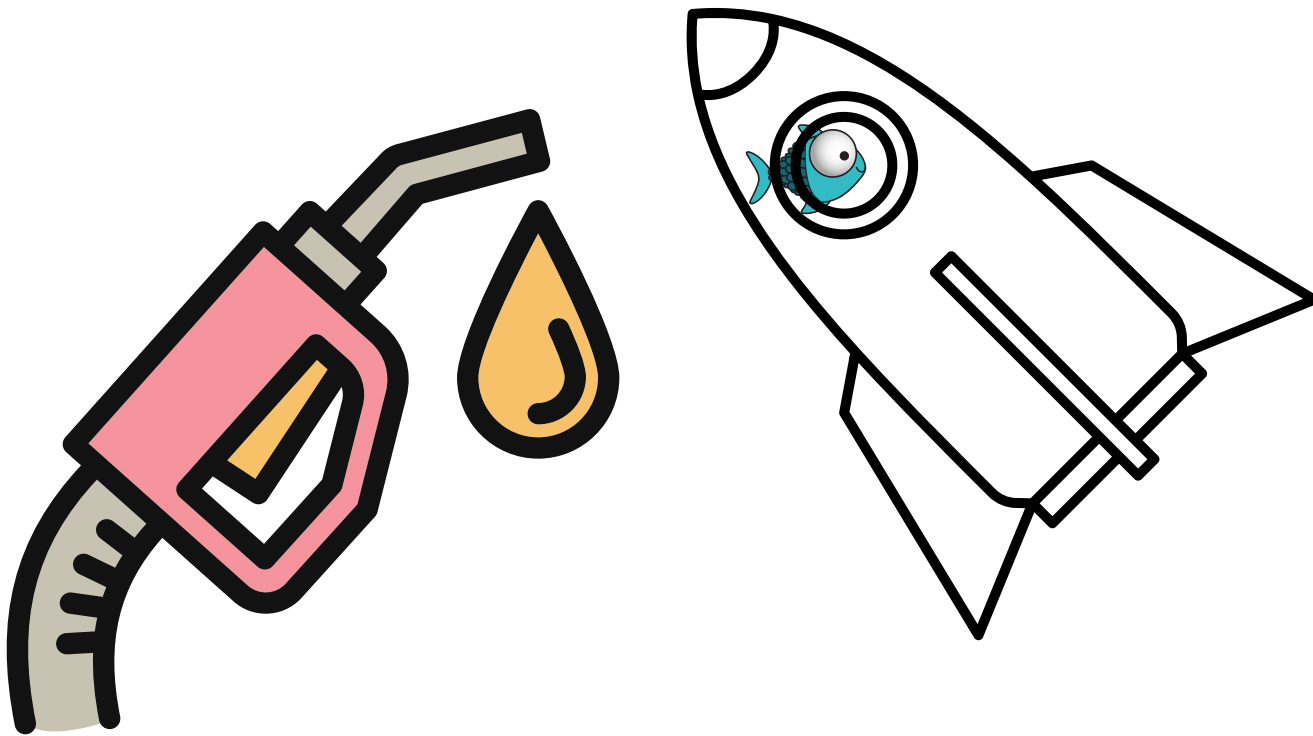

He drove through the water at 130 km/h. It was very scary when he was under the water at that high speed.

An underwater scene with a blue gradient background. Sunlight rays stream down from the top. Various blue fish of different sizes and shapes are swimming. There are several light blue bubbles of different sizes. At the bottom, there are dark blue silhouettes of seaweed and coral. The text is centered in the upper half of the image.

Then a lot of fish were there under water. But suddenly there was an announcement in his rocket.

The announcement said the fuel in the rocket was almost empty. Cajus called back to the ship and said that there was an error when they were filling up the rocket with fuel.

While he was under water, he began looking for an oil well to refill his rocket.

Cajus was able to find oil wells,
but unfortunately none had oil inside.

Then suddenly a huge shadow appeared and all the fish swam away.

Cajus tried to turn his rocket away from the huge shadow,
but he was too slow.

It was get closer and closer until he finally saw it.
It was the monster and it was tremendous.

The monster nudged him in his rocket.
Cajus thought that this was the end of him.

But then he realized that the monster had nudged not because wanted to kill him. No, it was because it wanted to help him.

Cajus now saw that the monster had brought oil for his rocket.
The monster gave him oil to refill his rocket again.

they flew back to land along with the rocket. Everyone on the boat was very surprised.

They became friends and every one was celebrating Cajus and the monster.

We learned in this story that scary and tremendous monsters can be nice too.

About the author:

Hello my name is Cajus and I'm from Germany. I like to spend my time playing soccer and tennis. I like to write stories about monsters and animals.

Someday I want to open my own hair salon.

The background is a vibrant blue gradient representing an underwater environment. It features faint, light-colored outlines of a grid and sunbeams filtering down from the top. Various blue silhouettes of fish are scattered throughout, some swimming towards the right. At the bottom, there are darker blue silhouettes of coral and seaweed. The overall aesthetic is clean and modern.

The Monster tells the story of Cajus the detective and that scary monsters will not always be bad!

Cajus embarks on an underwater journey to investigate an eerie shadow and faces many challenges along the way.

Join Cajus as he dives deep into the unknown and discover something he never thought was possible.