

Where's My Star?

By Harshitha Shri

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Hey! I'm Harshitha Shri Prakash a 11-year-old story writer, dancer, singer, artist, young scientist, enthusiastic about the universe and also a athlete. I also participate in many competitions, and I like sports too. For all the young, inspiring authors out there! Enjoy Reading This Book!

Hello! said Clara to her best friend Sara and running towards her for a hug as she met her in the garden.

As the met each other after a long time, Sara wanted to go for a trip with her! She said Clara where could we go for a trip?

Clara came up with a place! She asked Sara if she remembers their most favorite place when they were young. And she said she did! They shouted Friendship Lake here we come! Sara said she'll go ask her parents too.

After a while, Sara said her parents and Clara's parents agreed for the trip. So they packed their bags and set to go. The car arrived and they came running to hop on.

As they arrived it was night time. They both built their tents and laid on the ground to see the bright night sky. Clara took some story books and Sara brought 2 balloons to make a wish and let it go.

After they read their books, they laid down and stared at the sky, when Clara looked up she saw that her favorite star was missing! She asked Sara that where's my star? Sara replied she doesn't know. Clara was worried.

Sara went to call Clara's parents, her mom told her that stars are always not with us it dies and forms, and her dad said it's been 5 years since we saw that star maybe it died but still there are many more new stars out there enjoy watching them!

Clara agreed, and ran to hug her parents, as she hugged she told them that from now on she will enjoy watching every single star glowing up in the sky.

Her parents smiled Clara was jumping and Sara felt really happy. Everyone looked up at the sky and said goodnight and went to sleep.

✦✦ The End ✦✦

Hope you enjoyed this Book!

